Dear Customer

General Data Protection Regulation

As you are no doubt aware the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) came into force on 25th May 2018.

We hold your name, address, contact names, email addresses and phone numbers. Personal information such as names, emails, addresses and phone numbers will be subject to the new regulations.

We also hold details of the services we provide for you and any information related to these services. Wicks Farm Holiday Park employees use the information to process your instructions, administer your pitch agreement and associated paperwork such as invoices and insurance.

Your information is stored via our Computer Operating System on password protected computers and is regularly backed up by a secure back up which is stored securely.

Please be aware we will only contact you in response to your communications or to update you on our agreement, prices, park information and latest park news.

Any details held by us are not passed to any third parties, other than our insurers.

Currently all our customers are opted in to receive Marketing Information (as detailed above) however under the rules of GDPR you have the right to erase or rectify any personal information we hold.

Any personal data you give us will be processed in accordance with the law and our privacy policy.

Yours faithfully

Richard Shrubb
